

Introducing Dana-Farber's Mammography Van

Dana-Farber's Mammography Van will soon bring state-of-the-art digital breast cancer screening to the women of Greater Boston. This new van will provide affordable and convenient access to digital mammography, the latest breast cancer screening technology.

Dana-Farber's Mammography Van replaces Boston's Mammography Van, which was owned by the city of Boston and operated by Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The new van will continue to serve neighborhood health centers and other community-based organizations, and will be operated by registered technologists.
